UNUSUAL PHOTOGRAPH taken by a Desert Sun photographer of a power pole in Palm Springs, will record for posterity the history of development of a community. The pole will be destroyed after 21 years of service.

Historic Pole Awaits Destruction To Make Way for Civic Progress

Excessive growth in this area and an associated demand for more electrical energy, has spelled the destruction of a power pole that since 1935 has been the key point to electrical service in the Palm Springs area.

An electrical power pole, rising 60 feet into the air at the corner of Andreas Road and Indian Avenue, gouged and pitted by the use of climbing hooks, stands proudly and majestically as a pioneer of the Village—awaiting its destruction.

The California Electric Power Company last week completed excavation and construction of a new underground "T" vault and the relocation of a new pole some 200 feet south of the old one. Estimated cost of the completed project is expected to reach almost $40,000. Work has been under way for about 15 days, or a total of 150 man hours, and the completed job will show this figure quadrupled.

THE OLD POLE, just past its 21st birthday, can claim having more equipment on it than any other in the city, with its estimated value in excess of $15,000. During its life, more than 750 man hours have been spent hanging insulators, attaching crossbars, installing conduit and stringing wire to it. After a year of exclusively serving the power company, it divided its interest by becoming the holder of two vital utilities for the town, power and telephone. The telephone company signed a joint pole agreement for its use in 1936, and in late 1952 it became the holder of a television cable.

DRIVEN DEEP into its lower diameter are nails, still imbedded, that tell another story of a job that it did during its years of service. Old-timers say that before city ordinances were passed against it, the pole frequently displayed notices of big events, such as Western Week and Desert Circus posters. Unknown, but probable, is the possibility that in its early years the pole could have displayed "Wanted" or "Reward" posters.

The pole, affectionately known as "The Christmas Tree," today has reached its ultimate maximum in efficiency, and it is estimated that all its dressing weighs a total of five tons.

Before long, the corner of Andreas Road and Indian Avenue will be clear of the mass of wires and insulators and crossarms, and few will remember the part that a power pole played in the development of America's Foremost Desert Resort.

Builders Warned Burning Permits Expire Oct. 15

All building contractors who were issued blanket burning permits until Oct. 31 were warned today by Fire Marshal Warren Heath that these will expire on Monday, Oct. 15, under direction of city council.

The action by council takes precedence regardless of the date on the permits, and all issued for later dates will be invalidated as of that time, Heath said.

Prior to that time, Heath urged all Village residents to take advantage of the burning ban relaxation, and clean up their yards and vacant lots and present a "clean Palm Springs" to visitors this year. Permits, which are required, may be obtained at either fire station.

Burning is necessary, he explained, as city trucks which conduct special hauls for extra trash and debris are at least two weeks to a month behind in orders, and will not have an opportunity to catch up very soon, as more residents are returning daily, and are seeking special trash hauls.

Besides presenting a cleaner Village to visitors, controlled burning now will also make for a safer Village in regard to fire losses, Heath said. Preparation by prevention can prevent fires, he added.

He urged Villagers to observe Clean-Up Week and Fire Prevention Week which will be marked in the Village during the first two weeks in October.

Brush Fire Rages Near Escondido

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The California Division of Forestry reported today that an out-of-control brush fire 10 miles north of Escondido has burned 800 acres and destroyed at least two cabins.

Ranger James G. Fenlon said he hoped the fire in Moosa Canyon would be controlled some time today.

Another fire in the Suncrest area was controlled after blackening 200 acres, the division said.

Sinatra's Home Is Robbed Again

The Tamarisk Country Club home of Frank Sinatra was burglarized yesterday for the second time in three weeks, with clothing and a recording machine taken valued at approximately $800.

Sheriff's deputies said the same pattern of entry was used, leading to the belief that the same persons were involved.

Aiding officers in determining the amount of loss was Sinatra's ex-wife, Nancy, who is visiting in Palm Springs.

The audience of Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology students booted the former President paused and smiled until the noise subsided and then continued.

He concluded his talk which was billed as a "scholarly" discussion of the office of the presidency amid mixed boos and cheers.

Realtors Donate $200 to Support Western Week

Complete support of Western Week, both moral and cash, was pledged by the Palm Springs Real Estate Board this week, with the group voting to donate $200 toward the staging of this traditional event as a community enterprise.

The board also went on record in opposition to the use of "Opening the Season" and "Closing the Season" expressions used in connection with Western Week and Desert Circus respectively, as Palm Springs "is now a 12 month operation."

IN ANOTHER ACTION, the group voted to sponsor a Palm Springs High School Girls Club known as the SPL Girls Club. Jane Colgan will serve as chairman of this committee, assisted by Muriel and Edythe Weinstein.

John Munholland, who was cited by the group as being the oldest in term of service of the local, state and national boards from Palm Springs, was presented a framed copy of the Realtors Creed.

It was the largest attendance at any meeting ever held, with almost the complete membership of 130 present.

Guests present included Ben Lewis and Lou Arms of the Land Title Co., Bob Anderson, Security Title, and Paul Stewart and Jean Bell, Riverside Title Co.

Next meeting will be a breakfast session at 8 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Ranch Club.

Possible Owner Of Abandoned Cadillac Held

The reported owner of an abandoned Cadillac, left out in the desert 40 miles from Barstow, was arrested by Palm Springs Police yesterday on a charge of vagrancy.

Taken into custody was Herbert B. Finkelstein, 31. The Barstow California Highway Patrol office reported that he had apparently abandoned the expensive car in the desert.

The CHP checked with authorities in Pennsylvania, and found that Finkelstein's description matches that of the legal owner, and if it is his property he may do with it as he wishes as long as it does not harm anyone else. Investigation is continuing.

When arrested here, Finkelstein had $8.74 in his possession, funds realized from the sale of a 22 caliber revolver in Indio. Officers here said that he had spent Thursday night sleeping in a local park.

Joint Talks Held on New Sign Law

25 Businessmen Discuss Needed Ordinance Changes

Some 25 persons attended a special luncheon meeting yesterday to discuss the technicalities of the sign ordinance for the City of Palm Springs, at the Biltmore Hotel.

Persons at the luncheon included members of the City Council, Variance Board, Real Estate Board, Retail Merchants Association and the special sign ordinance committee.

Recommendations to changes in the sign ordinance were presented by Bill Maidhof of the Sign Committee, Ed Hawkins of the Variance board, and by the city administration.

The new ordinance which is proposed to go before the city council at its next meeting, will regulate and control the size and type of signs erected in the city, provide for the removal of some signs within a reasonable period of time, clarify existing provisions and enact more realistic ones.

Red neon is not permitted on signs in the city under the present sign ordinance, and will not be under the new ordinance; however, some of the other provisions of the old ordinance have been relaxed under the new code.

The administration will ask the council to enact a time limit for removal of non-conforming signs, and several years will be allowed for them to become conforming.

10 in 2 Cars Collide Near Cathedral City

Drain Dip in Road Blocks Vision Of Both Drivers

Six persons were treated in Desert Hospital early this morning following a head-on collision near a teenage rendezvous spot west of Cathedral City.

The two cars, one carrying six passengers and the other four, smashed head-on at the end of Terrace Drive at the storm-drain, and investigating officers said that neither driver could see the other. The accident happened on the crest of the storm-drain bank.

According to police officers, a car driven by Steve Fields, 19, 27 Athel Street, was coming out of a small canyon in the area, frequently used for teenage rendezvous, when they met head-on with a car driven by Donovan Booth Brown, 22, Rancho Trailer Park. Neither car could stop on the hard-surface dirt road.

Treated at the hospital were: Fields, lacerations of the forehead and sprained shoulder. Cecil Bullard, 22, Tramview, contusions, concussions and a sprained right foot.

Clara Mead, 16, Eagle Canyon Trailer Park, lacerations of the right ankle and leg, and abrasions. Brown, driver of the other car, lacerations of the left elbow.

The injured were taken to the hospital prior to arrival of the California Highway Patrol at the scene, and hospital authorities were asked to hold them until arrival of officers at the hospital. Following treatment and investigation, they were released.

Assassin's Bullet Fatal to Chief Of Nicaragua

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone (AP)—President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua died early today from bullet wounds inflicted by an assassin more than a week ago.

The 60-year-old Somoza succumbed to the effects of the multiple gunshot wounds at the U.S. operated Gorgas Hospital at 3:05 a.m. PDT.

His death came unexpectedly, since he had been reported recovering from the effects of the four shots pumped into him at the Nicaraguan city of Leon on the night of Sept. 21.

HOWEVER, COL. CHARLES O. Bruce health chief of the Canal Zone, said Somoza's condition took a turn for the worse Friday night. He said an increased decline began shortly after midnight. Five hours later the Nicaraguan chief executive died.

Bruce ascribed death to general fatigue of the body and Somoza's inability to make a recovery from his very serious injuries. Bruce said he could not tell whether Somoza suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. But he said the President's rate of recovery from a partial paralysis induced by one bullet indicated there had been no large cerebral hemorrhage.

AT SOMOZA'S bedside when he died were his wife, his daughter, Lilian, and her husband, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa. In the adjacent suite were President Ricardo Arias of Panama and Gov. William E. Potter of the Canal Zone.

Sevilla-Sacasa said he had called Luis Somoza, 34, the President's elder son, an hour before his father's death and warned him of the impending end.

After Somoza died, Sevilla-Sacasa notified Luis and his brother, Anastasio Jr., both of whom remained in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital. Luis Somoza is acting head of state as president of the Nicaragua Congress, and Anastasio Jr., 32, is a colonel and head of Nicaragua's National Guard, Army and Police Force.

Dad in Tavern As 6 Children Burn in Home

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Six children died without a chance to escape from a fire which officials said apparently smoldered for nearly an hour before breaking out.

Milwaukee police were holding the children's father, whom they said, had been in either a tavern or a neighbor's home drinking when the blaze destroyed his family in suburban Oak Creek.

Peter Vallariel, 36, a glue factory employee, was to be questioned further today by authorities. His wife, Romona, 26, and their 1 year old son, Joseph, had gone to find Vallariel, leaving the children in the care of Martha, 10.

The victims were Martha, Stella, 8, Mary Ann, 7, Peter, 5, Jane, 3 and Frank, 11 months.

It appeared that all six children were caught without any chance of escape. Three bodies were found on the living room floor, one in a chair and two others in a bed.

Holds Daughter As Hostage After Stabbing Spouse

ALHAMBRA (AP)—A 48-year-old laborer today was caught in a police dragnet as he forced his 16-year-old daughter to accompany him as a hostage after he stabbed and critically wounded his son-in-law, police said.

Hierchel Grover Hays was booked on charges of kidnapping and assault with intent to commit murder as a climax to his attempt to be reunited with his estranged wife, Genevieve.

Police said Hays stabbed Frank Delbert Nale, 24, his son-in-law, in the stomach when Nale attempted to disarm him in the home of Hays' estranged wife.

Nale attacked Hays after the elder man ordered his daughter, Barbara, to leave with him at knife point until his wife agreed to return to their home.

The knife occurred after Hays forced his daughter and Nale to lead him to where his wife was staying, police said.

Palm Valley Water Utility Hearing Set

A hearing on an investigation ordered by the California Public Utilities Commission to determine whether Montague N. Herbert, 70-129 Wonder Palms Road, Palm Valley, is conducting operations as a public utility water corporation will be held in Palm Springs Wednesday.

Commissioner Ray E. Untereiner and Examiner Grant E. Syphers will conduct the hearing at 10 a.m. in the Justice Courtroom in the City Hall.

On May 28 the Commission ordered the investigation on its own motion following a hearing on the complaint of Anthony Burke, also of Palm Valley, requesting that Herbert be required to sell and distribute water to Burke's property.

Herbert requested dismissal of the complaint on the grounds that he is not conducting a utility subject to jurisdiction of the Commission.

Plane Maker William Boeing Dies on Yacht

SEATTLE (AP)—William Edward Boeing Sr., 74, founder of Boeing Airplane Co., died aboard his yacht Taconite off Edmonds, Wash., Friday following a heart attack.

Boeing took up flying for a hobby at the age of 34 and bought a Martin hydroplane in California.

He decided the planes of the day were poorly engineered and with the help of a friend built a seaplane on the shore of Lake Union.

He formed the Pacific Aero Products Co. July 15, 1916.

The name later was changed to Boeing Airplane Co.

Adlai Readies Plan for Schools Like 'Neglected'

By UNITED PRESS

Adlai E. Stevenson worked today on a program for the nation's schools which he said had been neglected by the Eisenhower administration.

Stevenson accused the administration Friday night in a televised speech in Milwaukee of lacking "strong leadership" in educational matters and offered a three-point plan to meet school needs.

THE PLAN WOULD put educational policy on the same plane with the country's foreign and defense policies, appropriate more money for school construction and investigate a national scholarship plan.

Stevenson will speak tonight at Minneapolis on "peace" before flying back to Washington for brief rest.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER remained in the nation's capital over the weekend and made no appointments but Vice President Richard M. Nixon went back into important southern border states for speeches at Hagerstown, Md.; Martinsburg, W. Va.; Tampa and St. Petersburg.

Supporters gave Nixon a warm greeting in West Virginia, especially at Wheeling, a landmark in Nixon's career. It was at Wheeling four years ago that Nixon won Mr. Eisenhower's praise after "coming clean as a hound's tooth" in the controversy over his expense fund.

SEN. ESTES Kefauver also campaigned in West Virginia, predicting in a speech at Huntington that "a fellow named Joe Smith" will give the Democrats victory on Nov. 6.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate described "Joe Smith" as a mythical character whom a delegate attempted to nominate at the Republican convention, as "the common man."

"Joe Smith never got invited to any of those exclusive stag dinners at the White House," Kefauver said. "He isn't rich enough or old enough to get appointed to the cabinet."

Kefauver also likened "Joe Smith" to the farmers and small businessmen who he said had been forsaken by the Eisenhower administration.

State Survey Of Historic Sites Under Way Here

MRS. WINNIE HOWELL.

An investigation and survey by a member of a Senate Interim Committee on Recreation, State Beaches and Parks, is currently being conducted in Palm Springs, with an intended proposal that the state will set up historical monuments in this area.

Winnie T. Howell, executive secretary of the Senate Committee, is currently staying in Palm Springs, where she is working on a local survey of Agua Caliente Tribal lands and possible historical landmarks.

This is not Mrs. Howell's first trip to Palm Springs. In 1954 she was a member of the committee investigating the local Indian problem. During the past nine years she has been an active investigator and executive secretary of legislative committee.

HER REPORT on the current trip will be made to the committee, and will be prepared in a bill which will go to the California Legislature in the form of recommendations, due for passage in January, 1957. The meeting with the full committee is scheduled within two weeks—in Oakland.

In the preliminary report on California's State Park program, the committee said that "the primitive Indian burial and village sites in California are being destroyed at an alarming rate, chiefly due to land leveling by ranch owners and real estate subdividers."

Although it is not necessary or desirable to preserve permanently all such sites, it is urgent that preservation be maintained until proper studies can be made to determine the importance of the site before it is gone. Therefore, immediate action should be taken.

The committee's report went on to say "certain of the sites that prove to be of particular significance, and are important and strategically located should be purchased by the State and preserved for exhibit to the public."

MRS. HOWELL will make recommendations on points of interest within the area of Palm Springs, mostly to do with Indian history.

"In setting up a State Historical Monument they could have sanitary facilities for the convenience of the public, as well as picnic facilities in order that the visiting public will be encouraged to relax and to remain long enough to get full benefit of the educational exhibits," said the report.

SENATOR members of the Interim Committee on Recreation, State Beaches and Parks include Louis G. Sutton, chairman, 8th District; A. H. Breed, Jr., 16th District; Stanley Arnold, 1st District; and Nelson Dilworth, 37th District. J. Delbert Sarber is committee consultant.

A full report is due to be released by the committee by Dec. 1.

Evil Godless, Science Lesson Sermon States

"God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" asserts the Apostle Paul to Timothy in a reference which is the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" in all Christian Science churches, Sunday (II Tim. 1:7).

In the Gospel of John the opening verses declare, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (1:1,3).

A companion passage to this Scriptural quotation will be read "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "In the Gospel of John, it is declared that all things were made through the Word of God, 'and without Him (the logos, or word) was not anything made that was made.' Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make, — hence its unreality" (p. 525).

Baptist Church To Observe Rally Day This Sunday

This Sunday will be Rally Day at the First Baptist Church, First Street and Cactus Drive, Desert Hot Springs, it was announced this week by the church's pastor, the Rev. Gordon Gilbert.

Beginning at the Sunday school hour, 9:45 a.m., there will be a call for all age groups to return and resume their Bible learning. A new Bible will be presented to the person bringing the most visitors with him to Sunday School.

Rally Day also will feature a banquet for the Baptist Youth Fellowship at 5:30 p.m.

During the evening service Wesleyan, ventriloquist, will tell a Bible story with his dummy, "Eddy O'Toole."

The public is invited to attend the Rally Day exercises.

Calvary Baptist Adopted as Name

Calvary Baptist Church is the new permanent name of the American Baptist Church Extension project in India which has been operating under the temporary name of First Baptist Church. The church voted to adopt this name last Sunday.

The Calvary Baptist Church will also begin holding its services and Sunday School at a new location next Sunday. The church will meet at Gard's Hall, at the corner of Jackson Street and Highway 99. The schedule will remain the same: Morning Worship, 9:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:35 a.m.

Next Sunday the Rev. Richard A. Uzzell will speak on the topic, "Then and Now—and How," in the morning worship. There will be a Rally Day program in the Sunday school.

'There is a Way' Is Sermon Topic

"There is a Way" is the sermon topic chosen by the Rev. A. Keith Bauserman for this Sunday's 11 a.m. services of the Desert Hot Springs Baptist Church. At the 7:30 p.m. service the pastor's topic will be "Ideal Human Relationships."

Push From Below?

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Nine-year-old William H. Holly had good reason to be shaken up recently. The lad was standing on a tombstone in a cemetery when it suddenly tipped over and pinned his ankle. The boy was hospitalized for treatment of an injured ankle — and a case of the jitters.

Stein Services Held Sept. 28 In Costa Mesa

Funeral services for Alexander Stein, 65, owner of the Frontier Shop in Palm Springs, were conducted at 1 p.m. Friday, at the Blatz Mortuary Chapel in Costa Mesa under the direction of Groman Mortuary.

Stein, of 1420 West Ocean Front, Newport Beach, died in Hoag Memorial Hospital on Tuesday. A native of Pennsylvania, he had resided in the Los Angeles area for 18 years.

As a fine craftsman in leather and metal tooling, his services were much in demand by the motion picture industry.

Survivors include his widow, Ann of Newport Beach; a daughter, Grace Domnitz; a brother and sister, Harry and Henrietta Stein, all of Los Angeles; his mother, Adeline Stein and two brothers, George and Edward Stein, of Pennsylvania.

Rabbi Saul Silverman of Temple Israel in Hollywood officiated. Interment was in Harbor Rest Memorial Park.

Rally Reports Planned Sunday

The Cathedral City Community Church observes Rally Day tomorrow. At 9:30 the young people who attended summer conferences at Big Bear and at Pacific Palisades report on what the conference did for them. Brief meetings of the classes follow. At 11 a.m. the pastor will preach on "See You in Church."

On Oct. 7 at 11 a.m. the church is to observe the Worldwide Communion, along with other churches of many denominations. It is also to observe the sacrament of baptism at 11 a.m.

Scranton Rites Conducted Today

Funeral services for Arthur C. Scranton, 76, 151 North El Segundo, were conducted at 11 a.m., today, Saturday, from the Oakdale Cemetery Chapel at Chatsworth, with interment following in Oakdale Cemetery in that city. Wife and son Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Scranton died at 7:15 a.m., Wednesday, Sept. 26, following an illness of several days.

A native of Nebo, Ill., he was a retired chiropractor. He had been a resident of California for 18 years, and of Palm Springs for two months.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ina Scranton; one son, William A. Scranton of Ammandale, Va.; three daughters, Mrs. Hazel Williams and Mrs. Frances Scherich, both of Ammandale, and Mrs. Helen Robertson of Pittsburg, Kansas; and three sisters.

EDITOR'S CORNER

By OLIVER B. JAYNES

PROBLEM IS NOT NEW, MR. STEVENSON

In his attempts to garner votes from the older age group—and the farmers—Adlai Stevenson would make it appear that the Republican Administration has been “holding out” on these people. Nothing is farther from the truth.

Benefits to both of these groups have been continued by the Republicans. While the cash hand-out to farmers was reduced somewhat, a high percentage of them are heartily in favor of President Eisenhower's soil bank program and other efforts to reduce subsidies and surpluses.

The amazing part of Stevenson's approach to the problem with which our senior citizens are faced is that he speaks as though he had just discovered such a problem exists. Where has he been the past 20 years? It is the most talked-about and written-about problem of the day—and has been ever since the last war. It hasn't been solved by either the Republicans or the Democrats—and Adlai Stevenson is not going to solve it by promising that he will see to it the government does something real fine for the old folks.

There is nothing the “government” can do to help competent older people get jobs except through such an expansion in industry and business that employers will HAVE to turn to this group. Giving these people a few dollars more a month would not help much. Giving them enough to make up for what they could earn would place such a great burden on those who already are working, and paying a third of their income to the tax collector, that the nation's whole economy would be in danger.

A lot has been accomplished by the Republicans for the older people who find it so difficult to get employment. The Social Security base has been broadened far beyond its limited coverage when the law was enacted under the Democrat party. More people are getting pension coverage, and the payments are higher. But the problem is not yet solved, and Adlai Stevenson cannot solve it by promising to take more from one group and give to another. It is much more complex than that—and has existed a long time before Adlai seems to have discovered it.

The greatest hope of more employment for older people—which is what most of them want far more than pensions—lies in the growing manpower shortage. An expanding economy under the Republican Administration that started it will do more to relieve the problem than anything else short of another war.

Prospects under Stevenson would not seem to be very bright for ANY age group. If he carried out his threat to throttle “big business” (as he calls American industry), the old unemployment problem would bob up again; put more young people out of work and make it even harder for oldsters to get jobs. More old folks would be drawing pensions and placing a greater hardship on those who are working. The senior citizens would rather have jobs than a little more pension money.

Everybody would lose!

SAFETY IS NO GAME (From the Detroit News)

When the Chicago chief of police declared heatedly that there was no place on his force for “policemen who hide to arrest motorists,” he spoke like a true sportsman, thereby putting his finger on the heart of the traffic enforcement problem.

If breaking the rules of the road is a game in which the motorist and police try to outwit each other, then the cop in an unmarked car lurking at a blind intersection is no gentleman. Our own feeling, however, is that the police are not paid to play games.

Unmarked police cars have proved effective in cutting down accidents precisely because they discourage the motorist's sporting blood. The more devices the police can find for keeping potential traffic violators worried over sneak attacks the more likely the highway cowboys are to behave themselves. That isn't cricket, but cricket doesn't take 40,000 American lives a year.

ISSUES, NOT PERSONALITIES (Sugar House (Utah) News) Bulletin)

On the national level the Democrats are trying to get in and the Republicans to hang on. In this period of great constitutional debate concerning the very fundamentals of our way of living it can only be hoped that who ever wins will uphold his oath to preserve, defend, and protect the Constitution from all enemies within and without.

And, say, let's talk issues and not personalities.

Lighter Side of Washington

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U)—The armed forces are looking for outside help in the form of inventors. A lot of things need to be invented to keep America strong. The National Inventor's Council, working under the Department of Commerce, has a zillion things that could be worked over to improve what we already have.

FOR EXAMPLE, there is a crying need for a new chemical that can melt snow or ice at temperatures as low as minus 65 degrees F.

Say there is snow and ice on the runways of an air strip. The snow plows take off most of it, but the film left on the strips could cost a life. The film must be removed.

What is being used right now is calcium chloride. But that has a “corrosive effect on metals.” Heated sand is being used, but that is too cumbersome and unwieldy. And neither of these is effective at 65 below.

Come on, some inventor!

AMONG OTHER things that the military wants are odor-measuring devices.

Odors aboard a military aircraft not only make people sick; they provide a tip that maybe the plane is in trouble.

About the only thing available at present is the human nose. That apparently isn't sensitive enough to detect trouble ahead; something that could prevent a crash.

The crew could be done in. Passengers could pass to their reward. Anything that could correct this possibility, electronically, or otherwise, would bring some kind of comeuppance from the military.

AN INVENTION is in order for something that will preserve canned meats for as long as a year at temperatures of 100 degrees F.

It may be quite an order, but the government feels if somebody thinking real hard, could come up with the solution, he might get up in the high money bracket.

The above is a long order, which might be hard to fill.

Over 100 canned meat items are required which have a “distinctly different flavor.” These run into various groups from stew to meat and gravy to “patties,” to meat and fruit, to meat and cereals, to meat and eggs, to spreads, to luncheon meat, pork tongues and chop suey.

NOBODY HAS TO invent the 100 varieties, including the “suey.” That already has been done. It's the business of keeping them fit and smelling right that concerns the military.

Another thing the services would like is a “personal heating system.” Something that the inventors council describes as a “device that will distribute heat over the human body for exposures at sub-zero temperatures.” This thing, if accepted, must have adjustable heat “in-puff” and can be operated eight hours “without refueling.” It's got to be light of weight.

As the council puts it “if the torso is warm enough, normal circulation will keep the extremities warm, too.”

So you hard-thinkers get to work. I have not even scratched the surface of what is needed.

BUT ANYWAY, am happy to note the enthusiasm given the proposal to keep Western Week. Can understand why, being a bit superstitious myself, there was difficulty at first.

I believe this is the thirteenth observation of Western Week.

I also believe that it will be lucky for Palm Springs.

AM ALSO HAPPY to note there has been action on the Quarter Horse track proposal.

Judge Bruce Findlay sprung the starting gate this week. And Frank Bogert says that they'll be leaving that gate come fall, 1957.

But don't start saving quarters. It's going to cost you two bucks and up at the windows, even if they are quarter horses.

Personally, I feel like asking Judge Findlay for a Writ of Mandamus to serve on the guy at the $2 show window to enact payment on a useless ticket.

But am afraid his response would be stronger than just to man damus.

Don't forget to set your watches and clocks back an hour tonight. PDT means Pretty Dead Tomorrow.

The day of the Big Parade

Seems like we'll have a Western Week after all. Far as I can see, and learn, looks like the necessary wherewithal, as we laughingly term moolah once in a while, will be forthcoming. But let us not be fourth coming. Let us be first.

WESTERN WEEK is a great thing for setting the tempo for the big months ahead. It gets villagers and visitors in the mood. And that is good.

Besides, it's just like the guy who owns a tuxedo—or even tails. He pays out big money for the outfit and the chance to struggle into them, comes rarely. Especially here.

Western togs also cost cash. And who wants to lay it on the line and then get a chance to display the finery only once or twice a year.

Besides, it is good for a man, physically. He can tell whether he had better go on a diet if he has trouble around the waist line. Western Week provides the test each October.

JOE HENDERSON, president of the Lions Club, was the first Service Club chieftain solicited for aid for Western Week. With appropriate adjectives, he agreed at once.

Speaking of the Lions Club, reminds me of an item noted in a New Jersey paper. It read: “The Lions Club now has 74 members. It is the strangest club in town.”

Now, I have been a Lion for many years. (Please snort that out when reading it.) So I can say, without prejudice, that if that item had appeared in The Sun, outside of the membership total, it would not have been a typographical error.

We should all bow in the direction of Adele Colgan of the Hotel and Apartment House Association. Here's a gal once she is given a job to do which will net her exactly nothing but will mean a lot to the town, she starts running in one direction and that is toward the goal assigned to her.

Beyond any shadow of doubt she has accomplished the most outstanding job so far in aiding the Western Week Campaign fund drive. I have heard that when she “hits” somebody for a donation she simply will not take no for an answer. What a gal!

Last night yours truly addressed his brothers at the Palm Springs Elk's Club. My mission was to urge that organization to sponsor the Children's Pet show during Western Week. I should have saved my breath.

THEY ALL KNEW about that organization's selection as the only such group in town who would undertake to do the job and do it well. I was informed that the Desert Sun that the pet show would be under the sponsorship of the Elks. And they took the job. Rudy Salazar and a committee of 20 members were designated as the group who would take over this event and that the rest of the 450 members would help and pitch in if necessary.

Small contributions to perpetuate Western Week are rolling in. The amounts are small but they are more than welcome. But we are a long way from the goal necessary to put on such a gigantic event as Western Week. Come on folks, let's give with a buck.

Buz Libott read my column yesterday about the Dunes. In that piece I wrote that Ruby was wearing himself out to a frazzle waiting for the completion of the building.

Says Buz: “Bill my end of the work is completed. The part that is holding up the opening of the Dunes are certain items needed by Ruby to complete the interior. Connie was in Los Angeles yesterday trying to expedite the delivery of carpets.” Carpets? Oh my! What a lush place that Dunes is going to be from now on!

EDDIE JACKSON, one of Jimmy Durante's best friends, is guesting at Davis Manor. All of us who watch TV know Eddie Jackson who comes out with a bounce on those Durante shows, and shows Durante how to really sing a song. He arouses the nostalgia in most of us when we hear this great performer. Glad to have you aboard, Eddie. And put your toes into the swimming pool or Frank Davis' feelings will be hurt.

PHAT GRAETTINGER, editor emeritus of The Desert Sun, just strolled into my office. With him came a flood of memories and my early days with this publication.

“How did you manage to get your housework done BEFORE I retired?...”

EARL WILSON:

'Wiggles' Giggles

NEW YORK — “I'm not out in Hollywood lookin' for a career,” giggled blonde blockbuster Barbara (“Wiggles”) Nichols, the latest dumb blonde and current pet of the Hollywood set, “I'm lookin' for a MAN!”

“And believe me”—she noisily chewed her gum — “Hollywood is the worst place to look for one.”

“I mean,” giggled the so-called young Mae West, the heroine of an entrancing success story, the few eligible guys are spoiled. Girls call them. Dames pick up their checks. They don't pick you up at your house now—you're supposed to pick them up at their house!

“Funny, isn't it?” — Wiggles was giggling a little even as she lolled back on a divan sipping a vodka — “me being an old-fashioned girl?”

And off she sailed into gales of laughter. Making more crackling little explosions with her gum, the busty beauty from Huntington, L. I., who was once “Agathon” on Jerry Lester's Broadway Open House TV show, informed me in a lazy, languorous voice that she's still resisting stardom — and winning the battle.

“LIKE I SAID, I'm too busy concentrating on husband-hunting,” Wiggles giggled. “I don't want to be a leading lady. They get such dull parts. Anyway, my family doesn't appreciate me.”

“I called my mother to tell her I was in a picture with Clark Gable.”

“She says, ‘But are you going with anybody?’ She'd be so happy if I got married and settled down. So,” sighed Barbara, “would I.”

“I guess I'm not lucky,” she yawned politely. “In The King and Four Queens,” I'm the only girl who isn't kissed by Clark Gable.

“Oh, don't worry — I complained!”

Horrified by her kindness, I found it was due to the script. As I due back into my own memory, I found I'd due Wiggles for half a decade — back to when she was a nobody with some body.

“MISS FIGLEAF” and “Miss Loew's Valencia” had, at 17, become a model, and, though slow to get to Hollywood, she captured the town because of her inability to be serious about a girl named Barbara Nichols.

“Do you consider yourself an actress?” I asked her now. Her black noodle Samson nestled on her chest, hugging him, flashing me an “Are you kidding?” glance, she confessed, “I think I'm more of a personality.”

“Oh, I studied acting at the Neighborhood Playhouse. But I didn't learn anything. The nasty teacher yelled at me. He thought I'd quit. He hated me because I combed my hair and didn't come in like a slob.”

I asked if she remembered playing Taffy Tuttle on a TV show I did... and getting fired because of a low neckline. And Adlai Stevenson's show once because she didn't hit it off with Phil Foster? “A year ago,” she added drowsily, “I was offered $500 a week to become a strip-teaser. I was about to do it.”

One night in Sardi's she looked up and beheld Producer Julie Stein, who'd used her as a strip-teaser in “Pal Joey.” Here was Burt Friedhof, of Hollywood, who needed a sexy-looking blonde to play a stripteaser in a movie. “I forgot it,” she shrugged. “They always look at everybody in New York — and hire somebody in Hollywood.”

Friedhof cast her in “Beyond a Reasonable Doubt” then came Gable, then the part of “Poppie” in the “Pal Joey” movie. In a year — three pictures!

“How old do you say you are?” I asked.

“Aw, how old do you want me to be? That's what I told Clark Gable.”

“Can you sing?” “Clark Gable says I'm a new sound. He doesn't know what it is, but it's new.”

“But I got to get a man,” she reminded me. “I don't like this young crop. I just like the old guys with lines in their faces—that dissipated look. But they're spoiled, too.”

“Spoiled?” I asked. “By whom?”

“Their wives, darn it!”

THE WEEKEND WINDUP... “Don't print that!” The real villain in a much-publicized H'wood marital bustup was marijuana... How come a big magazine chain won't OK its staff's expense accounts at a certain famous East Side Club? ... CBS won't allow a too-lazy singer on its shows; claims she's too “unreliable.”

Abbe Lane complained at the Venice Film Festival that her tight Italian gown “felt like four men holding me.” She added, “I'd much rather have four men holding me.” (Who wouldn't?) Sammy Davis Jr. now imitates Al Hibbler in “Mr. Wonderful,” and Al boasts, “Always knew I'd be in a B-way show!” Movie tough guy Don DeLoe wants to open a cafe—he'd be his own bouncer.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: “The ideal '57 car will come with safety belt for the front seat driver and ejector seat for the backseat driver.”—Art Moger.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle told a gal wearing a plunging neckline, “Be careful in night clubs, or you'll end that dress all over your drink.” Buddy Walker tells of the beautiful woman who said she was staying at “next year's hotel” in Miami Beach. She explained, “It's named Under Construction.” That's early brother.

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Truth usually is better than fiction, it has been observed, and director-producer Alfred Hitchcock will go along with that one, plus one of his own—that there can be more suspense in real life than in the most startling fiction.

Hitchcock's vehicle for his theory is called “The Wrong Man” and is before the cameras at Warner Bros. He considers it a documentary drama and his first departure from the melodramas of semi-fantasy and calmly presented horror for which he has become known.

A series of links, seemingly the sort of thing that could happen to anyone, start to encircle Manny Balestrero, played by Henry Fonda. The first one takes place when he goes to an insurance office to ask for a loan on his policy. He needs money to cover a dental bill for his wife, played by Vera Miles.

80 SPEAKING PARTS

He is nervous. He keeps his hand in his pocket, holding the policy tightly. Two employees think he looks like a man who held up the office recently.

They identify him, and he is arrested and then jailed.

“The beginning is commonplace enough,” Hitchcock said.

“BOW FOR VIOLINIST WHO HATES FLIES”

I hate to admit it but as the Schwine - Kitzenger Institute's Public Relations Counselor I made up this Doodle for the sole purpose of publicizing their latest invention (this Bow, which also comes in a Deluxe model with chrome trim and fog lights). Dr. Schwine has been threatening to fire me because he says that lately I've been goofing off and not attending to business, but he's wrong. Why, only last month I had his picture in “Popular Schizophrenics Magazine” and he and Dr. Kitzenger are mentioned 43 times in my last book, “I'm For Me First” and starting next week their life story will be serialized in the Bellevue Medical Record. Some people are never satisfied!

SKETCH OF BANK of America's new Palm Desert branch building, where a public open house celebration will be held next Friday night, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., is shown above. Located at 73-833 Highway 111, at the San Luis Rey Avenue corner, the modern-design building is equipped with something entirely new in this area—glass-topped streamlined teller counters without wickets or cash drawers. Visitors will be asked to inspect this feature, the new vault and safe deposit section, and all other facilities of the building. About two and one-half times as large as the old Palm Desert branch, it will open for business Monday, Oct. 8.

Jackie Cochran Starts Active Campaign Drive

Jacqueline Cochran Odum, Republican congressional nominee for the 29th District, comprising Riverside and Imperial counties, was one of the guests of honor who made a brief talk at the big rally and barbecue staged by the Young Republicans of Imperial county at the fairgrounds in Imperial.

Mrs. Odum is now conducting, in the two counties, her congressional campaign pointing to the Nov. 6 general election.

Main speaker at the Imperial county Republican rally was Reed A. Benson, oldest son of the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

The younger Benson, who is currently serving as field representative for the National Republican Congressional Committee, also was featured speaker at a dinner meeting last night staged by the Young Republicans of Riverside.

Johnson Named Vice President Of Citizens Bank

Bevan Johnson, a senior vice president of Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank of Riverside, has been appointed a member of the board of directors, Elden Smith, president, announced.

"Mr. Johnson becomes the vice president member of Citizens board," Smith states, "a position long held by John Ralphs of San Bernardino. Mr. Ralphs has relinquished the title of vice president which he has held on an inactive basis since his retirement in 1952. He continues as a director. It is a requirement of the national banking laws that both the president and one vice president of a national bank be members of its board of directors."

Unusual Coin Collection to be Displayed Oct. 5

An unusual collection of American coins and paper money will be on display at the public open house for Bank of America's new Palm Desert branch building Friday night, Oct. 5.

An invitation to the public to come to the opening was issued by Mike Munier, officer in charge, who said that the coin collection will be only one of several interesting features of the evening.

OPEN HOUSE HOURS will be from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., and refreshments will be served throughout the period, Munier said. The new building is located at 73-833 Highway 111, at the San Luis Rey Avenue intersection, and is a quarter-mile west of the present branch quarters in the Desert Magazine building.

Some of the interesting pieces visitors will see in the money collection are coins minted by Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1652, examples of the first coins made under authority of the Federal Constitution, and commemorative coins minted for the World Columbian exposition at the 1893 Chicago World's Fair.

KEEPER OF THE COINS is Cy H. Phillips of Bank of America's Los Angeles headquarters. Phillips who has been a coin collector for more than 35 years, lectures to civic and school groups throughout Southern California on "Historical Background of American Coinage."

Phillips will be on hand at the branch opening to answer questions from visitors interested in the 300-year-long history of American money. He is a member of numerous coin collectors' organizations, including the American and California State Numismatic Associations, and is a charter member of the Southern California Numismatic Association.

Harold Scrivner Awarded $16,625 Crash Damages

Harold A. Scrivner last week was awarded damages totaling $16,625.87 by a jury in Manhattan, Kansas, as a result of an auto accident Aug. 5, 1952, near Manhattan.

Scrivner returned to Manhattan while the case was conducted three days in district court there, with the jury deliberating a half day before reaching its decision.

Scrivner had sought a total of $32,625.87 from defendant George Jordison of Salt Lake City. He was awarded $7,500 for permanent injury, $6,000 for hiring replacement help, $2,500 for pain and suffering, $568.87 for car repair, and $57 for medical expenses.

As a result of the accident which was a near head-on collision on a bridge, Scrivner suffered neck and shoulder injuries which required medical treatment for more than a year.

Governors Meet To Map Uniform Traffic Codes

DENVER (AP)—The National Governors' Conference's committee on highway safety has convened to plan uniform motor vehicle laws in all 48 states.

The committee hoped to map out plans for accomplishing three other objectives—uniform enforcement of motor vehicle laws; upholding of convictions and penalties resulting from enforcement of traffic laws, and development of state and community programs for safety education.

Specialists, employed by the committee to do research on methods of accomplishing the four objectives, report at today's meeting.

Calorie-Counters' Banana Cream Pie

Campaigning to keep the family calorie-count down? Find their love for luscious, rich desserts a hurdle? Here's a new, low-calorie banana cream pie to help you satisfy their sweet tooth without wrecking your program.

With this new recipe, you can whip up a banana cream pie that has 130 fewer calories per serving than the ordinary kind, and it's every bit as delicious.

The secret is Carnation's "Magic Crystals"—the nonfat dry milk solids that immediately burst into fresh milk flavor when mixed with water. The low-calorie "Magic Crystals" are used in both the filling and whipped topping.

Banana Cream Pie

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup cornstarch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 cups liquid Carnation Instant
 1-9 inch pie shell or crumb crust made with vanilla wafers

Directions: Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler. Add liquid Carnation Instant; mix thoroughly. Cook over boiling water until thickened (15-20 minutes); stir occasionally. Add small amount of hot mixture to beaten eggs; mix and return to milk mixture over boiling water. Cook another 4-5 minutes; remove from heat; stir in butter and vanilla. Cool thoroughly; pour into pie shell. Just before serving, slice bananas over filling and top with whipped Instant.

For 3 cups whipped topping, mix 1/2 cup "Magic Crystals" with 1 1/2 cup cold water in bowl. Beat until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes more), fold in 1/2 cup sugar; place on pie; serve at once.

Gem and Mineral Society Resumes Meetings Friday

The Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society will meet at the Community Church, Palm Desert, on Friday, October 5.

Members are looking forward to their first meeting of the season, anticipating an illustrated talk by their president, Herb Ovits, who with Mrs. Ovits has been on a rock-hunting and photographic expedition through Mexico. From letters received from the Ovits family during their trip it is believed that the program should be of great interest to the general public as well as to dyed-in-the-wool rockhounds.

Starting with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m., the regular meeting will be at 8 o'clock. Members are invited to bring their families and friends.

A field trip has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, October 6-7, to the Boron area in the Mojave Desert, noted for the variety of fine gem materials found there.

Those desiring reservations for the chuckwagon should have them in by Wednesday, October 3, and should phone Jack Lizer, 8-2041, Mrs. Emily Hatt, 76-2716, or Maurice Wright, Desert Hot Springs 4-2272.

Queen for a Day Here Next Week

The first Queen for a Day to be entertained in Palm Springs this fall, will arrive at the Rossmore on Tuesday. She is Mrs. Sarah Sprout of Los Angeles, and was selected because she is mothering 11 children. Four of them were adopted by Mrs. Sprout and her husband when they were deserted by their own mother.

Accompanying the Queen for a Day on her Palm Springs vacation will be a friend, Inez Jackson.

Menu suggestion... break open a baked sweet potato and stuff with ground nuts. Top with butter or margarine square. Return to the oven for a few minutes until the seasoning is melted and then serve. Or, spoon crushed pineapple over a baked sweet potato.

Jayceettes to Sponsor High School Girls Group

Jayceettes voted to act as sponsoring organization for the SFO, a club for high school girls, when they met Wednesday evening at the home of Ruth Hays at 606 North Calle Rolph.

The SFO, a social club with such extra curricular interests as aid to handicapped children, has high standards in its membership but does not limit its age level. As it enters a new school year it has 11 members but will be pledging soon.

The Jayceettes, which is not an official auxiliary, is composed of wives of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, organized to assist with Jaycee projects. The first big one of the fall will be the annual Steak Fry, which through the years has become an important part of "Get Acquainted Week." This will be on the evening of October 20. In addition they will assist with arrangements for the Jaycees District 9 dinner meeting, which is scheduled here for October 13.

Marcia Esbitt, Jayceette president, has named Dixie Bren as representative to attend the weekly meetings of SFO, which are held in homes of members.

Mrs. Bren, discussing the sponsorship of SFO, said that the Jayceettes will act as big sisters to the younger group, offering guidance and such assistance as is needed.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Cinemascope proportions of this great country of ours ... are admirably portrayed in a color film that is built around the Statue of Liberty ... that stands in New York Harbor welcoming immigrants and those returning misty-eyed to their homeland ... Then the camera swings over the United States to show how the industry and national characteristics of the immigrants have developed our national resources ... and blended into the great melting pot ... It's a reminder we all need ... for all of us have immigrant ancestors ... who came to this country aboard the Mayflower or on some later sailing ...

In California we owe the Italians for our grape culture and wine industry ... and even closer home ... the cotton fields of Imperial Valley ... and the date groves of Coachella Valley ... are imports to a land that was once all desert ...

The seacoast towns, like Laguna on its hills, have an old World look to them ... and the mountains in San Geronimo Pass, snow-crowned in winter, have been compared to Switzerland ...

The palm trees of Palm Springs are tropical ... but in their desert setting ... they make an oasis of this bright Village that is becoming city size ... It must be unique ... for everyone says ... there's no place like Palm Springs.

As September ends ... a metamorphosis sets in ... as the siesta tempo of the summer changes as though by magic ... and an upsurge of activity begins the very social winter season ... and news centers around who is back in the Village ...

One of the first chances to see for yourself ... is the fashion show luncheon ... to be staged at the Ranch Club next Friday noon ... with friends who are back in the Village getting together ... to make a table for the luncheon showing of new resort clothes ...

Marguerite Clatworthy is here opening their San Lorenzo Road home for the winter season ... She came out early to attend the wedding of her granddaughter Judith Ann Taylor ... who exchanged her vows with Lewis Mingus in the wee Kirk O' the Heather in Glendale last Sunday.

The Clatworthys spent a quiet summer at their Ft. Morgan home ... going back and forth to Denver, while the Joel Stones were there ... and attending the Hills Dilly ... Harry is waiting for delivery of a new model station wagon and expects to drive it out here around the first of November ...

The lights are on again in the Frank Camp home on Mission Road ... They arrived Stateside from their Orient cruise on September 9 ... and spent a few days in Carmel before coming home ... They report a wonderful trip ... with Mrs. Camp particularly enjoying fabulous Hong Kong ... On their way home they stayed in Hawaii for six weeks ...

Lunching at Town and Country restaurant on opening day ... were Gwen Costello and Joan McManus ... Gwen was just down for a few days ... but both she and Dr. John will be at their Clancy Lane home next week ...

After returning from their trip abroad ... where they visited the French Riviera, Italy, Germany, Austria and Switzerland ... they have spent the summer in Los Angeles ... except for a short vacation at Balboa ...

"Milk's my drink for pleasure and health in fullest measure."

"On milk both Mom and I agree, 'cause it tastes good. is good for me."

Style Show Luncheon On Friday

First style show luncheon of the fall season will be held at the Palm Springs Ranch Club next Friday, October 5, Manager Joe Pine announced today.

Models will display new fall lines of resort clothes, forecasting what will be worn in America's foremost desert resort this winter. It will be a parade of new modes, new lines and the newest of color-turrier colors, heightened in interest by the interesting background of the Ranch Club's western decor.

Three Palm Springs shops, Beebe's, Lanz and Stan Jaloff's Beachcomber shops will participate in the luncheon showing.

Reservations may be made by calling the Ranch Club at 5061.

Clarence T. Hamill of 1120 South Calle Rolph, who suffered a heart attack and was confined to the Desert Hospital for two weeks is home now and progressing favorably according to his wife Julie.

Helen and Robson Chambers have been busy re-modeling their house at 695 Warm Sands ... since they and their sons, Alec and Douglas, returned from their vacation early this month ... The family spent most of the summer at their cabin at Idyllwild ... and some time at Balboa Island ...

Dear Stan—

We now have at the Cantina jugs of Alligator Milk (Really! come in and see). Aren't you sorry you boarded out that cute Alligator. However, in the same shipment arrived jugs of Moose Milk. I wonder if you would like a Moose?

Better come in and look around, might be something else you prefer.

Leo.

Indians' Good Start Nipped, 47 to 13, By Brea

Smooth-Rolling Wildcats Overwhelm Village Squad

By LINDSAY NIELSON
Last night under the arc lights of the local field, the Palm Springs Indians were completely overwhelmed 47-13 by a very smooth-operating Wildcat team. Brea-Olinda completely dominated the pigskin from the first canto to the last.
The Indians did draw first blood though. Eddy Tarr of the local 11 blocked a strategic wildcat punt in the early stages of the first quarter and the Indians recovered on the Brea two-yard line. John Cunningham, the Indian's hard charging fullback, went over for the TD and also the extra point.
It wasn't long before the Wildcats retaliated by having their fullback, A. Ledbetter, sprint 48 yards and hit pay-dirt. The conversion try was good so the score stood 7-7.
THE BREAKS seemed to be with Brea. The Wildcats recovered a fumble on the Indian 30 yard line and once again marched to a touchdown, and again the conversion was good. The first quarter ended 14-7, Brea on top.
It was nip and tuck most of the second quarter. Then with six minutes elapsed, Larry Coon broke for a 72-yard gallop, but the Indians defensive halfback, David Lance, managed to trip him up on the Indian 12.
On the next play though Brea once again scored and converted, making the half time score 21-7.
THE HALF TIME period gave Larry Coon enough rest to run the opening kick-off 52 yards for another Wildcat TD, and the extra point try was good, so the score jumped to 28-7.
No sooner could you say the word "touchdown" than the Wildcats had another one chalked up.
This TD was one of the most beautiful plays of the game. The Wildcat quarterback tossed a 25-yard pass to Bob Brown, who spun and lateraled the ball to speedy Larry Coon, who obligingly skirted the remaining 10 yards to pay-dirt.
PALM SPRINGS recovered a fumble on Brea's 30, but didn't manage to get anywhere.
But, as usual Brea came through with another TD and extra point. The third quarter score was 41-7 in favor of Brea-Olinda.
In the last frame, Larry Coon again proved that he is worth his weight in gold. Coon slid past several Indian tacklers and hit the end zone standing and smiling.
All was not lost. With a new drive, Dale Johnson broke loose from the pack and scored the second Indian touchdown with three seconds remaining on the clock. Cunningham failed in the conversion attempt and the final score remained 47-13.

NEXT FRIDAY league play will commence when the Tigers of San Jacinto travel to Palm Springs. The Indians will probably have a great deal more success in league play rather than with Orange County League.
In other action last night involving Riverside County League teams, Coachella blanked Blythe 31-0, Banning lost to St. Francis of Pasadena 38-0, San Jacinto routed Fallbrook 25-6, Perris upset Chino 12-7, Vista defeated Hemet 19-0, and Valencia edged Beaumont 12-6.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:
Howie Pollet, the former Cardinal pitching ace now with the Pirates, has an answer to why despite the record home run blasting of the "rabbit" ball there are so many big winners among the pitchers this season.
Practically all the home run records in the book, except Babe Ruth's big 60, will be smashed this season. Yet, while the American League didn't have a 20-game winner two years ago, there are seven in the majors already this season with six others having won 19.
"IT'S SIMPLY that all the hitters are going for the fences and forgetting about the averages," Pollet explains. "Why, some hitters who never knocked one out of the infield are belting homers."
Bearing this out is that in the National League, where homers are ten cents a dozen, only 10 batters are over the .300 mark in the averages.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Today, Fidel La Barba 51; Sunday, Robin Roberts 30; Wednesday, Lynn Waldorf 54; Thursday, Frankie Crosetti 46; Red Munger 38 and Ken Heintzelman 41; Friday, Lew Wornham 39.
Athletes often topple because they like the bright lights and the bubbly. But little Pete Anderson's vice was ice cream. He ate so much of it that a year ago the 26-year-old New York jockey almost ate his way right out of the saddle.
BUT THE FOUR foot, 11 inch Pete went on the frozen goody "wagon" and he's making one of the comebacks of the sporting year. Right now in the New York jockey competition he ranks a close fourth-right behind such very able horseback riders as Eddie Arcaro, Willie Boland and Ted Atkinson.
A British scientist has figured out that the javelin, hammer throw and broad jump records should be broken in the Olympic games at Melbourne this winter—because of less pull of gravity.
HIS THEORY is that there is less pull of gravity in Australia than in Finland four years ago for two reasons. First, Melbourne is nearer the equator, spins faster with the earth's rotation and the centrifugal force tends to throw bodies out into space and counters gravity more.
Also, the earth is flatter at the poles and the shorter distance to the center increases the attraction of gravity . . . so there.

Dodgers Can Tie Pennant Race in Pirate Twin Today

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
A slight case of jitters threw Milwaukee into a nervous pennant sweat today and provided a golden opportunity for a heartened Brooklyn crew to bounce back into first place again by tonight.
The Braves were all thumbs Friday night in dropping a 5-4 heartbreaker to the Cardinals and the Dodgers can make sure the National League race is all even again by heating the pesky Pirates in both ends of a twin-bill today.
Better yet, the Brooks can take over the lead by half a game if they knock off Pittsburgh twice and the shaky Braves blow another one to the loopy-goosy Redbirds tonight.
SAL MAGLIE, a Pirate-beater from way back, and young Roger Craig carry the Dodger hopes today in a doubleheader that was brought about by a Pittsburgh-Brooklyn rainout Friday night. Maglie goes against rubber-armed Bob Friend in the opener while Craig faces fastballer Ronnie Kline in the nightcap.
Southpaw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's 20-game winner, opposes Herm Wehner of the Cards in the all-important arc-light contest at St. Louis.
ERRORS BY catcher Del Crandall and second baseman Jack Dittmer were instrumental in the Cardinals victory over the Braves Friday night. With the score tied at 3-3 in the sixth, Kenny Boyer, Rip Repulski and Bobby Del Greco singled in succession to put St. Louis ahead.
Pitcher Lindy McDaniel also singled off reliever Taylor Phillips to load the bases and Don Blasingame followed with a grounder to

Santa Barbara Routs Occidental

SANTA BARBARA — Santa Barbara scored its second win of the season Friday night with a 31-6 rout over Occidental in a non-conference game.
Backs Johnny Morris and Tony Back each scored two touchdowns to lead the powerful Santa Barbara team to victory.
Santa Barbara scored two touchdowns in the first period, one in the second and two in the final quarter. Oxy scored in the last two minutes of play when half back Morris Adams took a pass in the end zone.
The loss was Occidental's second of the season.

BROADWAY HIT: DAM YANKEES

ONCE AGAIN it's the Yankees and they're favorites in the Series, too. Top stars in the cast get the photographer's treatment in Chicago, where they clinched the pennant, and they are, of course, Casey Stengel and Mickey Mantle. (International)

Mickey Mantle Has Bat Crown About Sewed Up

NEW YORK — Mickey Mantle has the American League batting crown just about sewed up.
The Yankee slugger hit his 52nd homer in a 7-2 victory over the Red Sox Friday night and even though his average dropped a point to .353, Ted Williams, his closest pursuer, skidded two points to .348 when he went hitless in three official trips.

MORRISON ON GOLF

How to Keep Your Eye on the Ball

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," "Teacher of Champions"
IT'S AN exciting moment when you start your club back to strike a golf ball. The shot you are making doesn't have to be for the world's championship. Your reactions are fundamentally the same even with a short practice putt.
When your clubhead moves back from the ball, if you are not tense before this, you are apt to catch your breath and hold it until after your club strikes the ball. You're in a tizzy until you view the outcome of your efforts. Then the wayward flight of the ball prompts you to explode in any direction.
The time to take yourself in hand is before the peak of confusion that occurs at the start of most backswings. Deal with just one essential at a time. When you've established a reasonable amount of control over it go on to the next essential.
THE PRELIMINARIES, such as taking hold of the club, taking your stance, wagging, and fixing your attention on the cover of the ball, should all be done in the proper order. Then by doing them in this same order with all clubs for all shots you have the best chance of being organized.
After placing your hands and feet and feeling out your body balance and general freedom during your waggle the final touch in preparation for your swing should be fixing your eye and mind on the cover of the ball right where you expect your clubface to strike. This is done best by focusing on some distinguishing mark such as a particular dimple, scratch or bit of dirt generally found on the cover of the ball.
Make sure that you are fully aware of this distinguishing mark before and as you start your club back. Then you'll have a minimum of trouble keeping your attention on the ball and holding your head steady until after your clubhead strikes it. This steadiness will greatly improve all shots.
